SAMARA MARBELLA

First Hines International project in Andalucía

Leading international real estate company Hines has joined forces with national and local companies to develop a 175-apartment residential project in Altos de los Monteros. Sixty-eight million euros is being invested in the project, located just five minutes from central Marbella and offering spectacular views over the coastline with a natural mountain backdrop. Pictured at the presentation at Nikki Beach are (from left): Iñaki Azaldegui, project director; Edouard Fernández, managing director of Hines España; and Massimo Filippa, president of Greenlife Estates.
